STORY

During the beginning of the 21st Century, man had developed the scientific technology to create artificial life. The excitement of the invention only lasted a short while, until Mr. K, a genius scientist gone mad, found a terrible way to put this technology to an evil use. He created war-like bodies and formed a powerful, unstoppable military. Then Mr. K's army took control of the United Nations' future industrial city, Atlantis, and used it as a base to conduct his operations to conquer the world.

In response, the United Nations immediately sent out its troops to stop the crisis, but they could not stand up against the powerful military of Mr. K. The unexpected situation called for the United Nations to take a final measure by appointing a special mission of top class Special Forces Officers, Ben and Andy. The mission was to secretly enter Atlantis, the enemy's central base, and destroy the city by using Sigma, a newly developed time bomb.

Although Ben and Andy are powerful and experienced warriors, Atlantis, in enemy hands, was an extremely dangerous and unpredictable place. All the enemies they encounter on the way are artificial, non-living bodies, that are hard to eliminate. It is vital that the time bomb be set in specific areas for effective destruction within the compound.

On the other hand, yet unconfirmed sources state that Mr. K is now creating his last artificial warrior, and it is rumored to be invulnerable. If this is true, the city must be destroyed now.

Top class Special Forces Officers Ben and Andy, the world is on your side. Your mission is to fight for the future of the people.
